The operating problem

Small teams lose margin and follow-up discipline when CRM, proposal documents, order handoff, production status, and payment tracking live in separate places.

What breaks down

One lifecycle, one source of operational truth

1. Lead
Customer, branch, contact, activity, owner

2. Opportunity
Stage, value, product interest, follow-up

3. Proposal
Commercial summary, GST lines, document link

4. Order
Accepted proposal snapshots and PO context

5. Production
Line-item stages, owners, due dates, notes

6. Finance
Invoices, payments, costs, incentives, reports

COMMERCIAL CONTROL

Keep the commercial record structured while leaving document design in Canva or external files.

The CRM tracks proposal status, line-item GST totals, accepted-proposal order booking, and links to proposal documents without pretending to be a document editor.

Production visibility after booking

Every booked line item can become a production work item with stage-level progress.

Production stages show what is done, blocked, assigned, or due.

Management view

Dashboards and reports expose pipeline, billings, receivables, and production.
